be a WARRIOR

To understand how to be a Warrior, you must first know what exactly a Warrior is. In the dictionary a Warrior is defined as a person who shows or has shown great vigor, courage, or aggressiveness, as in politics or athletics. In the Warrior Nation it is that plus so much more. The ideal Warrior is intellectual, they think smart in the class, on the court, and on the field. A warrior leads by example, gives back to the community, and demonstrates excellence in all situations. So when asked how to be a Warrior one should respond, be the best you can be. Be proud, be strong, and most importantly be you. This is the 2011/2012 guide to How To Be A Warrior.

[how to...]
GO ABOVE & BEYOND

1) Think about what's best for the entire group.

2) Strive for excellence in everything that you do.

3) Make everything enjoyable for everyone involved.

THREE EASY STEPS

"To be a leader you have to always put others before yourself and make sure other people's needs are met before yours are." - Jerry Lancaster

takingASTAND

Saving LIVES one Warrior at a time

It is estimated that 77 percent of students are bullied at least one time, mentally, verbally, or physically in grades K-12. January 16th leaders of Warren Central made an effort to decrease that number.

While many used Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. day as a day to rest, the Warrior Nation came together to reflect and learn. Students filled the Performing Arts Center to take part in the first ever Take A Stance conference.

The conference featured guest speakers Mr. Marcus Clayton, Mr. Elliot Hopkins Director of the National Federation of State High School, and Math teacher Mr. Jerry Meredith. There were also skits performed by student leaders to demonstrate common acts of bullying.

Meredith silenced the crowed with his story of how hazing caused him to lose a loved one. Meredith's brother died his freshmen year in a hazing accident at Miami University.

"My brother always said that he was going to make a difference" Meredith continued, "I feel like since I've personally dealt with hazing that its my responsibility to try to share my story with others. And by doing that I'm making a difference."

Meredith understands first hand how the actions of one bully or hazer can not only change ones life but also all those around him or her.

Although this was the first year of the Take a Stance Conference, it certainly wont be the last. The athletic office hopes to have the conference in the future.

At the end of the conference Warriors in attendance signed a pledge stating that they would take a stance against bullying and hazing.

GIVING BACK THE WARRIOR WAY

A Christmas Miracle

It was Dec. 7, the day of the Children's Christmas Party, and the Christmas spirit was surely in the air in the Warrior nation.

Most students had gone home, some teachers were gone, but there was still a group of Warriors left in the school. Members of Student Council were still at school, rushing around to make everything perfect.

By 4:00 the commons was filled with Warren Township students from Lowell Elementary, Hawthorne Elementary and Raymond Park Middle Schools. Each child was paired with a group of high school students for the night to make crafts, eat pizza and, of course, open presents.

Multiple groups, clubs, and even seventh period classes came together to sponsor a child. Through various clubs and groups, senior Amy Conway had sponsored five children.

"It's a good community service," Conway said. "I know that it's a good thing and someone in our community that I am helping."

Two Lowell Elementary students, Javier Little and Semira Osman, both had an extra special Christmas this year because of the party.

Little, sponsored by the Honors Band, was excited most about Santa. His face lit up as he opened each of his gifts: a football, Lion King coloring book, Hotwheels, and crayons, among other things.

"I'm excited to be here because I get to be with friends and I get to see the high school," Little said.

Osman, sponsored by Ms. Georgia Watson's seventh period class, was just as excited to be there, although she had a different perspective than Little.

"I'm excited for the crafts," Osman said. "I'm just excited to be here."

As an extra gift, the Just Say No Club gave each child a Christmas tree ornament that promoted "The sweet life without drugs."

"We were given a grant and we thought we'd do something we'd never done before," senior JSN Co-President Tristan White said. "We decided to give the kids a little something extra."

Through the help of the Warrior nation, this Christmas party was one to remember. The children left the building with a smile on their face and a memory that would last a lifetime.

[how to...]

collect the most cans [THE OBLON WAY]

Step 1:

Make it FUN!

Ms. Julia Oblon found it best to make it a competition between her senior and junior classes.

Step 2:

Get the Community INVOLVED!

Ms. Oblon and her students knocked on doors asking for cans for the cause.

6) AURORA ROSS, SOPHOMORE, welcomes students from various neighborhoods around downtown for a bullying seminar lead by The Global Peacemakers. The Peacemakers hosted over 600 kids for their seminar.

Step 3:

Be willing to SACRAFICE!

Ms. Oblon and her students got up at 5:45 a.m. to go to Meijer to collect cans. They paid for the bags of groceries with money out of their own pockets.

"The kids I teach are very gifted in many different ways. My philosophy is that the more you're gifted, the more you have to give. I make sure my students know that."
-Ms. Oblon

Step 4: be HOMECOMING QUEEN

On Nov. 19, 2010, senior Kaylee Branch received the news that her father was diagnosed with Stage IV lung cancer.

Since that day, her life changed drastically.

Branch sacrificed her weekends with friends for spending all her time at the hospital visiting her father. She watched as her dad went through as many rounds of chemotherapy as his body would allow, but it eventually came to the point where he could not take it anymore.

After nine months of struggling, Branch's father passed away on Aug. 28, 2011.

Branch had been in and out of school so much at the beginning of the school year that running for Homecoming Queen was the least of her worries. Even though she wanted the crown, Branch didn't have the time to campaign like other nominees.

"The absolute coolest thing for me was hearing my name being called for nominations," Branch said. "I kind of thought that people would've forgotten about me because at that point, I was out of school so much with my dad."

"Kaylee persevered through the hard times and maintained her wonderful personality," Mr. Rich Shepler said. "She maintained her sanity in class. Here's a tribute to her and her strength."

In the moment of hearing her name called at half-time, Branch felt like things were finally looking up for her for the first time in almost a year. Between her dad's passing and totaling her car two weeks after his death, she was at such a low point in her life that she had no hope that things would get better. Winning Homecoming Queen was the hope she needed.

"I can look back on that moment and it still means as much to me as it did in the moment I won," Branch said. "It always will."

instructions

1 During auditions show off what you have to offer. Make a good impression and you are sure to get a good role.

2 Practice, practice, practice. Hard work and determination is the key to a good show. Cast bonding can also come out of the amount of time you will spend together.

3 It is now time to put all your hard work on display in front of an audience. Don't get nervous. Come up with some pre-performance rituals to get in your character. Take the stage and enjoy every moment of it.

LIGHTS camera ACTION

"Just because the play was written by Shakespeare, doesn't mean that it isn't relevant today"

- Ms. Carrie Reiberg, Director

"The most impressive part is all the work the students, both actors and tech, put into making this show truly unique"

- Mr. Jeffrey Dalstrom, Technical Director

Students take a modern spin on the age-old love story of Romeo and Juliet

The tale of star-crossed lovers may be centuries older than the actors performing in the PAC's "Romeo and Juliet," but a dose of technology has lessened the gap between students and the woeful tale of Juliet and Romeo.

A huge balcony, pillars and others props set a beautiful scene for the most famous love story ever told, but the use of a screen to play clips added an intensity to the play that could not have been achieved with only stage props. A projector displayed images and clips on the screen throughout the play changing the setting.

The projections played an important role throughout the play. The opening clip of a tumultuous storm not only showed Verona's poor weather, but it also served as a way to foreshadow the tragedy of the play.

The Montague and Capulet crests were also used on screen to indicate when there was a gathering of either family, which helped the audience understand what was going on.

The words "Verona 2012" displayed at the bottom of the screen hint that the plight of the two lovers has traveled from the age of Shakespeare to the present day.

"Just because the play was written by Shakespeare doesn't mean that it isn't relevant today, or that it couldn't happen today," Ms. Reiberg said. "The goal was to simply tell the story of two teenagers in love, and that is what we did."

Although the tale may be timeless, the PAC's elaborate production of "Romeo and Juliet" was a once-in-a-lifetime production.

AYANNA SANDERS,12, shares the stage with junior Kayla Carroll during a performance of "Romeo and Juliet." Sanders played Juliet in her first play at Warren Central.

1) Students in Mr. Jim Ledbetter's gym class work with medicine balls to improve core strength.

2) Senior Abigail McCarty begins to wash a client's hair. After two years of a four period block class, McCarty's work paid off with many satisfied customers.

3) Nathan Storm is promoted by Master Sergeant Rush. Students in the JROTC program were promoted for grades and conduct.

4) Junior Melissa Fitch chops mushrooms to prepare a meal for customers in the Threshold. Preparing meals for customers was a daily assignment for students in the Advanced Culinary Arts program.

Step Two:
COMPETE IN ACADEMICS

Students from a wide variety of subjects and talents put their academic skills to the test by competing outside of the classroom. With practices ranging from once a week to every day, students gained experience to bring home the win.

Speech

"I joined speech because it feels amazing to be a part of something that's bigger than myself. It's great to see yourself excelling, but to also watch your teammates excel. I'm so thankful that I got to experience that."
-Bekah Hodge, senior

Latin Club

"I like Latin Club because it gives me not only educational but social opportunities and a judgement-free atmosphere."
-Ashlee Gates, sophomore

MUNUC

"MUNUC was an amazing experience. I met so many interesting people from all over the world, tried delicious Chicago cuisine, and all in all it was an opportunity I am so lucky to have received."
-Alex Hodge, senior

Step Three:
TAKE COLLEGE -PREP COURSES

Project Lead The Way (PLTW) is a nationally recognized college-prep program, offering a dual credit through Ivy Tech Community College. Warren Central offers two PLTW classes, Biomedical Sciences and Pre-Engineering.

The Biomedical sciences is a four year program, starting with Principles of Biomedical Science, leading into Human Body Systems, Medical Interventions, and Scientific Innovations. Students did various activities such as labs, research projects to better understand human body systems, health conditions, and improvement of life.

"I like the class because it's a college-prep class," Mr. A.J McAdams said. "It's for kids who want to go in that field and who are determined to work hard. Once students are in the fourth level it's basically a college level science class."

Students in the class were willing to work hard and be dedicated to their work to stay in the program. It was challenging, but it was very much worth the hard work.

"I liked Bio-Med because of the many labs we did and how we did research to learn about the human body," sophomore Teahesia Tibbs said.

Another PLTW class offered at Warren Central is Pre-Engineering. Again, this is a four year program, starting with Introduction to Engineering Design (IED), leading into Principals of Engineering (POE), going to Computer Integrated Manufacturing (CEM), and ending with Civil Engineering/ Architecture (CEA).

Students in this program learned the fundamentals of engineering by using a 3D modeling software, and once they had a basic knowledge of engineering, moved onto testing actual models in real-world problems.

The advanced courses, CEM and CEA, incorporated robotics, automotives, and the engineering of buildings to see how things work and why buildings are made how they are.

"I like it because it's a different kind of learning," sophomore Diana Hancock said. "We see the origin of how things are made, and we get to design new products ourselves."

LIVE ON WTHR Warren Central Brain Game members Jeremiah Mickey, Malcolm Marshall, Thomas Ordway and Will Welch anxiously wait for their question. The Brain Game team unfortunately lost that match with a final score of 8-12.

UNUSUAL TALENTS in the WARRIOR NATION

Quietly observing singers and dancers warming up for their performance at Warren's Got Talent, Senior Brittany Hardy grabs her chain whip, throws it around her body and walks independently onto the stage.

Unusual talents are hidden throughout high schools. When a student has an unique talent that no one would expect, it could cause quite a scene. Some were singing their hearts out, hitting all the highest notes possible.

Some were moving their bodies around as if they had no bones. For Hardy these traditional talents were not for her; warming up her voice would be useless. Instead, she rapidly threw a chain whip around her body as if it were the simplest thing in the world.

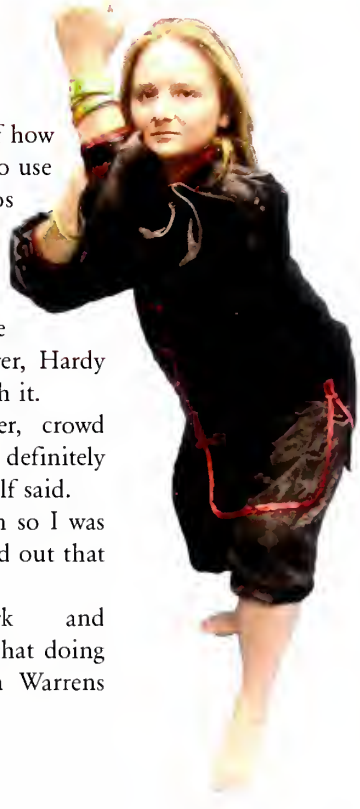
In 2004, Hardy moved from Mississippi to Indiana, and began to attend Stonybrook middle school. A group of students came and demonstrated "Tang Sodo," a type of karate, for her class. After the demonstration, the students from Midwest Karate gave the Stonybrook students a coupon for a free week of lessons at Midwest Karate.

Hardy was very interested and approached her mom about the lessons as soon as she got home from school. When Hardy tried out the lessons, she actually began to like the class.

Six years later, Hardy made it into the lineup for Warren's Got Talent, performing "The Chain Whip."

"People thought I was sweet and couldn't hurt a fly," Hardy said.

Hardy fiercely threw her weapon around her body, while doing butt hops. Hardy taught herself how to do butt hops, and how to use her weapon by viewing videos on YouTube. It took about two weeks of preparing for the show with hours of practice and staying late at Midwest Karate. However, Hardy knew it would be well worth it.



"It was a very clever, crowd pleasing performance, definitely entertaining," Ms. Beth Wolf said.

"I didn't expect to win so I was really shocked when I found out that I won," Hardy said.

With hard work and determination, who knew that doing something fun could win Warrens Got Talent.

TEAM DYNAMICS

GREAT CHEMISTRY SHOWS IN PINK THE HOUSE NIGHT

Playing as a team is one of the biggest factors in whether a team will either succeed or completely fall flat during their season.

In almost every sport, the players on the team decide whether their chemistry will be right when they are on the field or court. For the volleyball team, this chemistry was built up for the last few years.

Volleyball, like any other team sport, requires each individual on the team to communicate for overall success. With each player moving around and setting up the play, the girls who have played together have the advantage of knowing where their teammate will be and what they need to do to get a point in the match.

The last few years, the girls have had great regular and post-season success. This is because even the new players were able to blend in with the older players and learn from them. This dynamic set up for great chemistry and building of a team.

This team dynamic was on show in many of the girls' matches. One of the biggest times it showed was in the girls Pink the House night.

Wearing their pink jerseys, the girls took on a confident Ben Davis team in front of a packed house. From the start to the finish, the girls pleased the home crowd with dazzling plays and their ability to put the Giants behind. At the final whistle, the girls had earned a well-deserved win, beating Ben Davis three games to zero.

That night the girls had a double victory, they raised around $1,500 for breast cancer awareness and took down conference rival Ben Davis.

"It was great having all the support from the student body and raising all the money was awesome because it was a great cause," junior Casey Clark said. "Winning the game was extra."

FIRST IN A DECADE

GIRLS WINS FIRST SECTIONAL TITLE SINCE 1994

As senior Sarah Huh clung to the Sectional championship trophy, she knew that her years playing soccer at Warren had all led up to this.

"Holding that trophy in my hands was the best feeling I've ever had," Huh said. "It's a moment I will never forget."

For the girls it was the first time since 1994 that they had won Sectionals. On the same day, the boys also won the Sectional title, their first since 1999.

It was the first time since 1994 that the boys and girls had both claimed the Sectional Championship in the same year.

"I think that this is as talented a team as we have ever had here,"girls head coach Gary Roberts said.

In the girls' first game of Sectionals, they dominated against Arsenal Tech winning 10-0. After the big win, Beech Grove was the only thing standing between the girls and their first Sectional Championship in 17 years. When the final whistle blew, the score was 7-0 and the ladies were Sectional Champions.

The boys' road to the title was a little longer as they had to go through three teams before they could finally hold the Sectional trophy above their heads.

In the games against Beech Grove and Howe, the boys were able to win with ease. Manual provided a much harder task in the Sectional championship. The game went into double overtime before the boys were able to pull out the hard fought 2-0 victory.

"We knew that the trophy was ours and finally bringing it back home was a severe uplift to our spirit," junior Austin Abbett said.

JOHN WERT

SUPPORTING HIS TEAM THROUGH IT ALL

Brandon Smith, senior

John Wert has been running cross-country since sixth grade. But as a junior, his career was paused.

With the first meet nearing, the miles were increased in order to further prepare the runners. Wert took a turn for the worse experiencing a stress fracture that prevented him from finishing the season with his teammates.

Even though he was injured, Wert was still a part of the team, and he was going to be there for them.

"I was going to stay and support the team," Wert said. "Even though I couldn't run, I had to be there for them and cheer them on. They're like family to me."

Wert was determined to support his passion at all costs, injury or not. Nick Woerner, senior, believes John's absence greatly affected the performance of the team.

"Last season he was a varsity runner, so we depended on him to score high in the meets to help us win," Woerner said.

"We could have done a lot better," Wert said. "Our team was expected of so much more than what we did this season. Next year we will make it to the 'Big Dance' as Coach Mac would say."

Wert's support meant a lot to the team.

"It is always good to have experienced runners to give you advice, be there to cheer you on and be a part of your fan base," Woener said. "His support pushed me to run harder."

SHOCKING DEFEAT
CARMEL KNOCKS WARRIORS OUT OF PLAYOFFS

It was Carmel vs. Warren Central for a sectional championship. The storied rivalry these two teams have, coupled with the fact that it would be another #1 vs. #2 matchup, made this perhaps the most anticipated high school game in the country. Yet, no one expected the thriller we all got.

The game was set to kick-off at 7 p.m., but the buzz around Carmel's campus began well before that. It was standing room only. The wait was fiinally over.

"It was crazy when you realize the atmosphere," senior quarterback Kyle Faunce said.

On the fourth play from scrimmage, senior Kevin Davis caught a ball off of a screen and proceeded to dance his way through a hole and take the ball 85 yards to the end zone.

Carmel finished the half strong on two drives capped by two touchdowns by senior receiver Damian Pennington, and after a Hernandez field goal, the score at halftime was 23-13.

After another solid drive, Pennington scored for the third time to put Carmel within a field goal. Carmel was now riding a 20-3 run and a wave of emotion. It was clear momentum was on their side. Their fans are once again cheering with excitement, but again, they were quieted.

Warren got the ball back with about nine minutes to go in the third quarter. Pinned deep in their own territory, with no momentum and a fairly cold offense, the team got exactly what they needed. Methodically, they moved the ball down the field. With each first down, the Carmel stands grew quieter.

And finally, with less than three minutes remaining in the third quarter, Alexander scored his second touchdown of the game on a 10-yard pass from Faunce. That play concluded a wild, nine minute, 20-play drive that seemingly sucked the air out of the Greyhounds defense.

As it turns out though, that would be the last touchdown their defense would give up in the game.

Then, their quarterback Brandon Denning went down with an injury. Back quarterback junior Bradon Lugar raced to the field as Denning's replacement, and, on his first and only play under center, scored a touchdown. Five minutes later, Jalen Duncan found the end zone to give the Greyhounds their first lead of the game.

Faunce gave it one last desperate heave as time expired, but Johnson, the cornerback who saved the game for his team earlier, intercepted the play to clinch the sectional championship for Carmel.

Although the Warrior's season had ended, 10 of the senior players were recruited to some of the top devision-one schools.

SENIOR CHEERLEADERS REFLECT ON PAST SEASONS

KENTESSA MASON, SENIOR

"My best memory was our Senior Night during the boys basketball game against Carmel. My whole family and boyfriend were there. The entire time I was being introduced, I could hear him screaming my name from the bleachers. That night was the most fun because we ended up beating Carmel. The best thing about being a varsity cheerleader was being at all the basketball games and cheering for our team."

KIARA ANDERSON, SENIOR

"My favorite memory as a varsity cheerleader would definitely have to be winning State in 2009. I just remember it raining during every game that season and no one thought we deserved it. The worst memory that I've had as cheerleader was being dropped at a football game; I was so mad. To me the best part of being a cheerleader throughout high school was our Senior Night. It was my birthday and my entire family was there holding signs and screaming my name every time I ran past."

EMILY MAHURIN, SENIOR

"Being a senior cheerleader you get more respect and perks. I've most enjoyed the times of joking around at the wrong time. After being so close with the other girls and we all know each other. My favorite memory would be being ridiculous with Kailey. Every game left a story worth telling. She became one of my best friends this year. The worst part of cheerleading was cheer camp at IU. It was hard not going home and recovering from a hard, sweat-filled day. Plus Kailey wasn't there. That was rough. None of my time in high school would have been this spectacular if it weren't for the friendships I had in cheerleading."

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

SWIMMERS COMPETE WELL AGAINST THE TOP TEAMS IN THE STATE

In front of a packed crowd at the IUPUI Natatorium, four members of the boys swim team got down to business against some of the top teams in the state.

After sending two members to state last year, the team was able to send the four-member relay team this year with two individuals on the team competing in solo events. The relay team consisted of seniors Gabe Amezcua and Patrick Jones, as well as juniors Josh Garmon and Conner Finnigan.

"It feels good to be in state and show how the program is growing," Jones said.

Finnigan was the only one on the team to compete in the state meet last year. He was one of the two to advance to state last year in only his sophomore year.

In the first event, Finnigan competed in the 200 yd. IM. He came into the event seeded 19th. When it was over he finished in the same spot with a time of 1:58.4.

Garmon made his state debut in the 100 yd. Freestyle. He came into the event seeded 31st and seated behind some strong competition. When the heat was over he finished with a time of 50.1 and finished 32nd.

The relay team was the next to take it to the pool in the 200 yd. Freestyle relay. They came into the event seeded 17th. After a tough heat against some of the toughest teams in the state they came out 18th with a time of 1:30.1.

In the last event, Finnigan was set to compete in the 100 yd. breast stroke. He started out seeded 29th but with a time of 57.64 he advanced up to ninth. Barely placing out of the top eight by .04 of a second, he was able to advance to the final day of the meet and compete in the consolation round.

On the final day, with his team behind him, Finnigan competed in the 100 yd. breast stroke consolation round. In an intense race, Finnigan pulled out a time of 57.9 and finished 11th overall.

In the final standings the boys finished with six points and placed 40th out of 53 teams. They finished 3rd in their Sectionals and had one of the best years in recent history.

ONE FOR THE BOOKS

COACH WILLIAMS LEADS WRESTLERS TO STATE

Under the direction of third year head coach Danny Williams, the wrestling program has again become relevant.

Coming into this season, Williams' team was not ranked and was not receiving much recognition from anyone. This team was on a mission to make a name for themselves since before the season even started, and as season closed, they were seen as a legitimate state title contender.

It was evident from the very beginning of the season that this team would be one to look out for. They finished third in a very tough eight team field at the Capital City Classic to kick the season off. The team then got two early conference wins against North Central and Lawrence North. They finished second out of six teams in the Showdown Duals at Lafayette Jefferson. One week later, they got the same result at the Super Six Invitational at Cathedral.

The team finished sixth out of eight teams at the Holiday Duals in North Montgomery on December 28 and 29. Although that was not the result they wanted, the team did not hold their heads. They bounced back a week later and beat Center Grove, the 13th-ranked team in the state, in nail-biting fashion. The boys defeated the Trojans by just two points, giving them yet another tough conference win.

Set to host the Warren Duals, Williams' squad would take second in the event, with their only loss coming to Roncalli, the sixth ranked team in the state. It was time for the Warriors to compete in perhaps the biggest event of the regular season, the MIC Tournament. With many of the best teams in the state competing against the Warriors, the team rose to the challenge and captured the MIC crown for the first time in six years.

They nipped Center Grove by two and a half points to take the title. Not only did they win the tournament as a team, the team had seven wrestlers finish with first or second place in their weight class. Senior Dyrek Chowning and sophomore Max Hernandez both won individual championships at the tournament.

The boys elevated themselves all the way to 15th in the state and gained the attention of every school around the state with one of the best regular seasons in the program's history.

A GOOD RUN

SENIORS GO OUT AS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL IN HISTORY

Before the season began, the girls basketball team had one only one thing in mind: a state championship. With an experienced roster and a boatload of talent, coach Michael Brooks' team had high hopes for the season.

And while they fell short of their ultimate goal, this class of seniors will go out as perhaps the most successful in school history.

After finishing 17-3 in the regular season and winning the first conference title in school history, the girls focused their attention on winning their third straight sectional championship. The team rolled over Tech and Lawrence Central in the first two rounds, setting up the highly anticipated sectional championship game between the Warriors and the Lawrence North Wildcats. The teams split two regular season meetings and both were ranked in the top 15 coming in.

BreAnn Denning, senior

In a nail-biting, hard fought game, Lawrence North went on a late run to come back and win the game, 38-35. The Warren girls were devastated. No, they were not able to win a state championship, but this team and this class of seniors has given this program memories that will last a lifetime.

Seniors Linzi Moore, BreAnn Denning, Kalliste Haskins, Kendra Wilson, and Jadelyn Proffitt finished with a staggering 74-21 career record. This class of seniors won sectional championships in 2010 and 2011. Before this class, the program had not won a sectional title since 1991. Moore finished her career with over 1,000 points and will go down as one of the best to ever play at the school.

Ultimately, not what they set out to do, the girls' had the best season of the past four years. They have put Warren girls basketball back on the map.

THE UNDERDOGS

OVERLOOKED TEAM DRAWS ATTENTION FROM AROUND THE STATE

Antonio Offitt, senior

Coach Greg Graham had a boys basketball team that was overlooked by many. The Warriors were not ranked and picked to finish in the middle of the pack in the MIC. Graham's team answered by putting together a thrilling regular season and winning a share of the conference crown.

The boys started the year off great. They won nine of their first 11 games. Those nine wins included victories over tough opponents like Pike, Ben Davis and Lawrence North.

Not only were the boys winning games, but also they were doing so in thrilling fashion. Of those nine wins early in the season, three of them came in overtime, and one of them was junior Sam Thompson's buzzer beater to beat Pike at the end of regulation.

The team had the attention of everyone around the state. By this time, they were ranked in the top 15 in all of the polls. The boys continued to play well, and other than a 15-point loss at Mount Vernon, they were winning several close games.

However, late in the season, the team began to lose several of the close games they had been winning. They lost to Ben Davis in overtime in the second round of County, and shortly after, blew a 15-point second half lead in losing to North Central. On February 9, they lost to Lawrence Central on a 27-foot buzzer beater by IU recruit Jeremy Hollowell.

But one nail-biting victory may have been more significant than the others. On February 14, the Warriors defeated fifth-ranked Carmel on a three point shot by Jordan Garnett in the closing seconds. The win came on senior night in the final regular season game.

Three weeks later, their season came to end in similar fashion against the same team. Only this time, it wasn't Hollowell that won it for the Bears. Hollowell suffered a hip injury and was forced to sit out for most of the second half. But with Warren's leading scorer and rebounder, junior Devin Davis, in foul trouble, Lawrence Central was able to stay in the game and win it with under a minute to go. The boys were crushed. They had led by as many as eight in the second half and had a four-point lead with less than two minutes to go, but ultimately let the game slip away.

After the first round, the loss ended the team's season in the Sectional semi-final this is a team that according to the Sagarin Ratings, played the third toughest schedule in the state and still managed to win 14 games. The team finished ranked 13 in the state with a 14-7 overall record.

Starting off with a lot of off-season workouts seemed to pay off at the beginning of the regular season.

In their first match at the Brickyard against Pike High School and Speedway High School, the boys were able to defeat both the Red Devils and the Sparkplugs by six shots. Warren had a low score of 170.

Senior Connor Jones was a medalist with a score of 39 and junior Elliot Dant was also a medalist with a score of 40.

Unfortunately, they took a tough loss in the second match of their season, but plan to do nothing but move forward. Jones also was a medalist in that match with a score of 39.

Nothing short of hard work was expected from this team as a whole as they continued to move throughout their season.

"As long as we keep working hard, I expected good performances and improvements this season," Head Coach Dave Burton said.

SENIOR CONNOR JONES hits a hole in one. Jones was ranked number one with the lowest overall record of 39.

FIRST YEAR IMPROVEMENT

ROOKIE COACH BRINGS MORE WINS

As the girls' tennis season was finishing, the girls hoped to improve a less than stellar year.

After the first five matches, they had compiled a record of 1-4 with some close games. With the slow start, the team headed to Martinsville looking to get their record a step closer to .500. They were easily able to pullout the win with a team score of 4-1.

Some of the key wins included junior Brittany Schmidt winning a tough match in the 1 singles with a score of 7-5, 6-2. Seniors Caitlin Wilkinson and Marisa Peredo also won in their 1 doubles match with scores of 6-2, 6-3.

Looking to keep up their momentum, the team headed home to take on Arlington. This would be another close match, as it would go five games. The girls however, would not be able to pullout the win as they lost 3-2.

Winning for the team were Wilkinson and Peredo in their No. 1 doubles match with scores of 6-3, and 6-4. Juniors Taylor Lee and Lauren McCallen also won in their No. 2 doubles match with scores of 6-3, and 6-0.

The girls looked to rebound against conference rival Lawrence North but ended with a 4-1 loss. McCallen and Lee would be the only ones to win in their No. 2 doubles match taking it into three sets with scores of 6-7, 7-6, and 11-9.

Next losses were to Mt.Vernon and Chatard.

Trying to break the losing spell, the girls took on Southport at home in the first part of the county tournament. The teams were tied with two wins a piece but in the end the girls were able to pull out the tough 3-2 win and move on to the second round.

Schmidt won her 2 singles match with scores of 6-3, 6-2. Senior Conner Merritt won 6-2, 6-4 in the No. 3 singles match. McCallen and Lee won 6-1, 6-4 in the 2 doubles match.

"We are doing much better than last year," McCallen said. "We give it our all and that's all we can do."

In the second round of county the girls took on Franklin Community. This time they were not able to pull out a win as they lost 4-1. Wilkinson and Peredo were the only two to win as they won their 1 doubles match.

Sectionals would be the team's next challenge. In the first round the girls dominated as they beat Arlington 5-0. In the second round the girls took on Heritage Christian as they lost a heartbreaker, 3-2.

A GREAT WIN

SOFTBALL TEAM GETS BLOWOUT NEAR THE END OF THE SEASON

After a slow start to the season, the girls softball team looked to pick it up as they headed into the latter part of the season.

In their first 10 games of the season, the girls started off with a 2-8 record. Many of their losses came at the end of the game when the team committed key mistakes. Other than that, the girls were in almost every game.

Even with the tough losses, the girls were able to turn their attention to one of their most important regular season home games, The Autism Awareness Game against Pike.

When the game against Pike finally came, the team took the field in front of a sold-out crowd. The girls came out of the gates firing on all cylinders.

In the first inning, the team was able to score one run and hold Pike scoreless. The second inning is where the team really took control of the game. They scored nine runs and by the third inning were up 10-2.

The fourth inning was full of runs by both teams. Pike ended up scoring six while the girls scored four. After the exchange of runs, Pike ended up being down by only four at the end of the fourth.

Holding Pike scoreless in the top of the fifth, the team went for the kill shot when they went up to bat. Tacking on six runs, they put the game out of reach. Pike was able to score one more run in the sixth inning but it was too late. They girls won with a score of 20-12.

It was an entire team effort as the girls racked up 20 hits. Senior Brooklyn Visker hit for the cycle with two singles, a double, a triple and a homerun. She had three RBIs in the game and crossed the plate three times herself.

After the Pike game the girls went on to finish the season with a record of 4-16. They played Tech in the first round of Sectionals and won in dominating fashion with a score of 21-4. Roncalli would provide more of a challenge and the girls lost that game 6-0.

[HOW to... Score Runs]

1) Sophomore Jeff George waits in his defensive stance at third base as he waits for a pitch to be delivered. 2) Senior Gabe Holstein attempts to get a great jump as he leads off of second base. 3) Senior Charlie Dant makes his move towards the plate as he pitches out of the stretch during the team's first matchup with Cathedral. 4) Dant fires a ball back into the infield after fielding it cleanly in center field.

LEAVING THEIR MARK

SENIORS LEAVE LEGACY OF HARD-WORK, DEDICATION PERSEVERANCE

Shuffle through the box scores and stat sheets over the past few baseball seasons here, and it would be almost impossible to find a game in which you don't see names like Charlie Dant, Josh Piercry, Thomas Rea, Matt Dunnavant or Kameron Utter.

Reason for that being: these five young men are all outstanding baseball players, and collectively, they have helped tremendously in improving the baseball program. Each year the five has been here, the club has improved.

Four of them have started nearly every game since their freshman year. In fact, a several have been together even longer than that.

"We have been playing together for more than just four years at Warren," Dant said. "I would not and could not ask for a better."

Each year, all of them improved individually, but wins were hard to come by sometimes. The boys have yet to finish with a record above .500. Despite it all though, this group continued to battle.

"I want this group of seniors to be remembered as people who worked their butts off to hopefully change the outlook of Warren baseball."

When you look back on the record books, the overall record of this class will not look great, but they have left a legacy of hard-work, dedication and perseverance.

"I would want us to be remembered as hard-workers, on and off the field, great student athletes in the classroom, and good members of the Warren community."

There is no doubt this group of boys have left their mark.

In their final season as Warriors, the boys finished with an 11-20 overall record, but made a huge impact on the state tournament by beating the sixth-ranked team in the state, Cathedral, in the second round of Sectionals.

This marked possibly the biggest victory in the baseball program's history, however, the team was unable to sustain the momentum, as they lost the sectional final, 6-7, to Roncalli.

GROWING PAINS

SECTIONAL, REGIONAL WINS DON'T HELP AT STATE

For the girls, it was nothing but a season for growing as a team.

"As a young team, we have taken our fair share of lumps through the season," head coach La'gretta Smith said. "But overall the girls have done a great job."

In their county tournament, the girls came out with a sixth place finish. The freshman came out with a first place victory in their county tournament.

"Now that the season has concluded and we have reached the tournament, it is time to see what the team is made of," Smith said. "And thus far we are reaching our expectations."

For some of the girls, it was their first time competing at the varsity level and everyone was gearing up to take on the post season.

The girls came away with the Sectional championship with a score of 154.66. They defeated nine teams and came away with eight first place races.

When tournament time came around, the team came out and showed everybody what they were made of.

At Sectionals, the girls came out and won by over 10 points.

When they took on the Regional, they came out with the win again, but this time only by a margin of four points.

Those successes did not translate to the State meet June 1 at the Indiana University track, however. They scored 4 team points finishing in the middle of the standings.

"This team was very young and inexperienced, but the future looks bright for this group," Smith said. "With another year of training and hard work they will develop into a very strong team that will be a tough team to beat."

MAKING HISTORY

BOYS SET RECORDS AND HIGH STANDARDS

Finishing strong was important to the boys track team so finishing with a third place in the Marion County tournament was important.

"I am pleased with this finish by our guys," head coach Dennis McNulty said. After the season McNulty retired as track coach ending a long, successful run.

Going forward with the season, senior Terry Batemon was a key member of the team. He broke the school pole vault record at 16 feet.

The boys' team won their tenth IHSAA Sectional title in 10 years. They took six individual titles and two relay titles to advance in the State tournament.

Karim Abdullah, JaCorey Dodd, Cody Stone, and Terry Batemon all showed great senior leadership in winning their races. Dyrek Chowning also brought home a title along with a sectional and school record in the discus throw.

"No other team in the history of the school has ever won 10 Sectionals in a row," coach McNulty said. "I think that is really special."

If the boys won their Regionals they would be only the second team in state history to win ten straight Sectional and Regional titles.

The team came out with one goal in their mind and they did exactly what they wanted to do. Out of 43 teams, the boys finished first.They had won their tenth straight Regional title.

Individual winners include Dyrek Chowning, junior Carrington Murray and freshman Isaiah Thomas.

State would be the team's next major challenge. They were not able to pullout the big win however. Out of the 143 teams competing, the boys finished as one of the top teams at 15 tied with Fishers.

[how to...] OVERCOME

Courtney Dickey

Most children spend their childhood in a carefree environment with no worries. But, as freshman Courtney Dickey and her family can testify, it is not always that simple.

Courtney was diagnosed with Cerebral Palsy when she was an infant. Cerebral Palsy is a group of disorders that can impair brain and nervous system functions such as movement, learning, hearing, seeing and thinking.

She had an extensive back operation as an adolescent that helped to relieve muscle and nerve tension in her legs. There is no treatment for Cerebral Palsy other than helping that person become as independent as possible.

Courtney is far from letting her disorder hold her back. She has tried to maintain as normal of a life as she can. Dickey plays tennis and in the past, swam on a swim team at Raymond Park.

"Courtney is my hero. I am so proud of who she is becoming," sister Haley Dickey said.

> "Courtney is my hero."
> -Haley Dickey

Now that she is a freshman and has seen all Warren can offer, Courtney has found a love for cooking. She is aiming to attend a culinary arts school and become a chef.

Courtney is constantly tested and is taking remarkable steps to further her education. She keeps an open mind and experiences as many things as she can.

"Whatever comes my way, I'll see if I like it," Courtney said.

CHANGE THE WORLD

Hannah Bocik

Imagine living in a country where education is not a priority because of lack of funding. Imagine a place where almost every child is living in extreme poverty, and nutrition and healthcare resources are dwindling.

Freshmen Hannah Bocik and her sister Sarah Bocik have a firsthand view of this. Sarah is a missionary involved with Cry of India.

She raises money to help children in India get a better education, food while they are in school, and study about God.

This past fall break, Hannah accompanied her sister on a mission trip. They went to Kolkata, a metropolitan city in West Bengal, India.

Some of these children are the first in their families to even attend school because the lack of funds in their village cannot afford educating everyone.

"It hurt to watch little kids bathe in the dirty water down the street or watch an old man sleeping on the concrete ground night after night." Hannah said. "But then, when we went to the schools, and talked to the children about Jesus, I was amazed by the smiles on their faces. I loved seeing simple phrases, such as 'Jesus loves you,' brighten their life even when they were surrounded by poverty."

Hannah attends Calvary Temple of Indianapolis and is very active in her youth group. Her church sponsors Sarah, and the mission trips as a whole. Hannah is also involved with the Global Concerns Club.

"India was a once-in-a-lifetime chance that showed me how blessed I really am," Hannah said.

ACCEPT THE PAST

Makenzie and Lindsey Jackson

In 2003, a precious baby girl named Lilly Jackson was born to Marcella and Henry Jackson. In a short time, she made a huge impact in the lives of the Jackson family. When twins Makenzie and Lindsey Jackson found out that they were going to have a baby sister, they were ecstatic. They were going to get another sibling to laugh with, play with, and love.

The day that they found out their new baby sister Lilly was born immediately brought happy tears to their eyes. They were excited but never could expect what was going to happen in the near future.

Lilly was born prematurely. Babies who are born prematurely sometimes don't develop everything all the way. Lilly had a lot of trouble breathing along with other complications. The doctors predicted that Lilly would not live longer than two months.

Since Lilly was in and out of the hospital, the twins spent as much time with their baby sister Lilly as possible. Even though the doctors put a time line on Lilly's life, the Jackson family kept up their faith.

"Lilly brought so much happiness to the whole family," Makenzie said.

Lilly passed away in 2005 at the age of 2. The Jackson family was devastated. However, Lilly was seen as a miracle child.

"Losing a child is the hardest thing I'll ever go through," Mrs. Jackson said.

"I always think about Lilly and not just how we lost her, but how her story could affect others," Lindsey said.

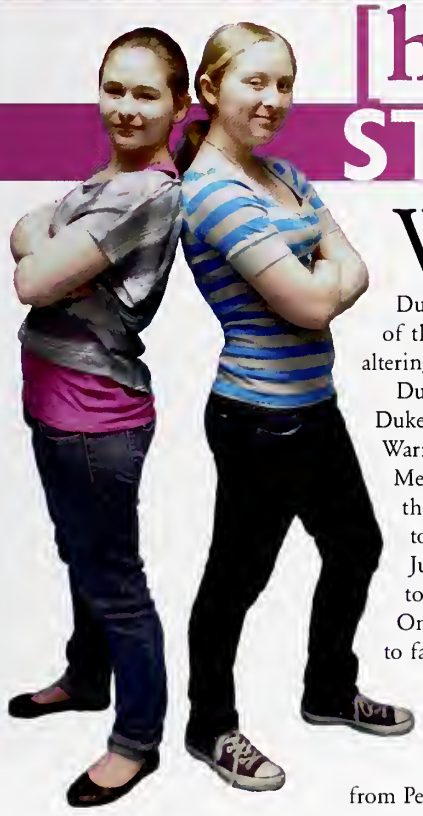
[how to] STICK TOGETHER



Jessica and Julia Duke, sophomores

What if choosing to stick together meant losing someone else you loved? Sophomore twin sisters Jessica and Julia Duke spent their freshman year and some of their sophomore year facing this life-altering choice.

During their freshman year, the Duke sisters were forced to leave Warren Central to go to Perry Meridian due to problems with their home-life. After the change to Perry Meridian, Jessica and Julia made new friends and began to grow accustomed to their new life.

On July 15, 2011, Jessica and Julia had to face the fact that they were not safe in their own home. The sisters were forced to move out and come back to Warren Township to live with their grandparents.

When they went back to get their belongings from Perry Meridian, the items were thrown everywhere in the yard.

"All our things were in the yard waiting to be taken away," Julia said. "It's weird seeing all your things in garbage bags outside."

> "Being able to talk through the problem together is what helped me." - Jessica Duke

After moving back to Warren, the worst of the storm wasn't even over. Jessica and Julia's grades dropped, their self-esteem was low, and they missed all their old friends from Perry Meridian. The sisters had always been close, but going through such a traumatic event gave them the opportunity to grow closer.

"Being able to talk through the problem together is what helped me," Jessica said. "We sometimes would turn up the TV so no one would hear us as we talked."

Coming back to Warren was a big change, but with their sister and their best friend by their side, it definitely made it easier. The twins have now taken their lives back in their own hands and are starting their journey at Warren.

[how to...] BE STRONG

Dashaune Yates, sophomore

As a child you learn so many things that you carry on throughout life such as riding a bike or swimming. Some of those lessons children take for granted daily. For sophomore Dashaune Yates, her situation was totally different. She never had the opportunity to take these lessons for granted. Dashaune wasn't able to leave a hospital for two years straight, yet alone learn how to ride a bike or go swimming.

At the age of two, Dashaune hit her hand on a kitchen cabinet and broke her arm. While she was at the hospital getting an x-ray, the doctors discovered some unexpected news. They found a tumor in her arm. Soon after, the doctors diagnosed her with leukemia.

"Cancer is not a joke. People have died from it so I am a walking miracle," she proudly stated.

The doctors immediately began treatment to kill all of the cancerous cells in her body. Soon after treatment began, she began to lose all of her hair. Unlike most cancer patients, she chose to go all natural and not wear a wig. She was expressing that she is strong and doesn't care what others think.

At the age of five, doctors declared that Dashaune was in remission. She was finally released from the hospital and could start kindergarten. The only problem was she had to start a year later than everyone else her age. She was so used to not being around new people, so it took a while to warm up to all of the new kids.

"Cancer is not a joke. People have died from it so I am a walking miracle." -Dashaune Yates

To this day Dashaune is still in remission and carried her story along with her each day. She does volunteer work with other children battling leukemia because she knows how it feels to deal with something that big at a very young age.

"You've got to be strong, have confidence and faith in yourself, and always keep hope that everything is going to be okay," she concluded.

keep the FAITH

When junior Rebekah Pack was younger, she and her father shared an unbreakable bond. She was his youngest and his one and only girl. Now at the age 16 there is only one thing she wants more than that bond. His life.

On Jan 20, 2011, Mark Pack committed suicide. The Pack family hasn't been the same since.

Accompanied by her mother and a friend, Rebekah came home from school one Thursday afternoon to bring her dad a shake only to find him in the back room dead.

"I don't think anything could have prepared me for seeing him ... I just couldn't believe my eyes," Rebekah said.

Mark owned a small business, but in 2009 it started to go down hill. He began to struggle financially causing him to feel as though he was failing as a father.

Feeling unable to provide for his family, Rebekah's father fell into a state of depression.

The change in her fathers' behavior soon drove a wedge between the once close father and daughter.

"All I could think was 'This is my fault, I caused this' because I felt like he did it because of how I acted towards him," Rebekah said.

Rebekah's father left a note addressing Rebekah, her mother, and her two older brothers. In the note he said that he felt that their lives would be easier without him.

"There's a reason for everything." -Pack

Not leaving a will and not having any life insurance, the family's life was far from easy after his death. It was chaotic. Her mother had to regain guardianship of her. They had to sell their home and move into her aunt's basement.

"It kinda sucks not having a place of our own," Rebekah continued. "All of our stuff is in storage, and we're pretty much living out of boxes."

With the crazy events of the past year Rebekah's faith is the only thing that kept her sane.

"I know that God has a bigger plan, and that there's a reason for everything...It's just about keeping faith," Rebekah said.

PERSEVERE

Strength took on a whole new meaning for senior Angel Dick when her boyfriend Jeremy Crane and his niece Kyleigh were brutally murdered. Jeremey's friend, Michael Bell, shot and killed Jeremy and Kyleigh.

"Michael was like a brother, he was more than just a friend," Dick stated.

Dick was devastated when the love of her life was ripped from her.

"It's hard to be happy without the person who makes you happy, Dick explained."

With her world in shambles, Angel needed all the support she could get. Principal Rich Shepler and counselor Jeff Massey got involved to help Angel get through this difficult time in her life.

Jeremy and Angel had planned to move to Illinois together where Angel would attend college. Angel knew she had to fulfill her promise she made with Jeremy to continue her schooling and attend college.

"If I didn't Jeremy would kick my butt." Though Angel has not found closure in this situation, she knows that she must try to move on with her life.

"It's hard to be happy without the person who makes you happy" -Angel Dick Angel's advice to anyone grieving over the loss of a loved one is to remember all the good times before the bad times.

"It's not going to be easy, but if Jeremy were here he would want me to push through this."

Justin Bieber hair is amazing!

You could never go wrong with something Hollister

Cargo= Winning!

High-top shoes were the perfect way to finish off an outfit.

gals

Bandannas gave a new look to the classic headband.

Vibrant scarves made any outfit pop.

bright skirts gave any boring outfits an edge

Leather!!!!! It always made an outfit look edgy.

Didn't feel like doing your hair? fishtail braids and side ponytails were a quick and easy hairstyle.

HOW TO...
KEEP THE MEMORIES

1 Learn the rules of journalism. How to write captions, make a layout, and start the lead of your story.

2 Plan the book. Make a ladder to be sure everything is covered and as many students as possible are included.

3 Make the yearbook. Write stories, design pages, and find pictures. Get as many students possible involved, so more yearbooks are sold.

1985

First glossy cover used.

1995

we all start somewhere

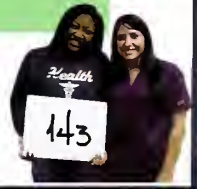
The Big Change. In 1961, Warren Central moved to its current location on 16th Street.

Principal Rich Shepler cheeses for his senior picture in 1983.

In 1988 the Warrior Chicken shows his mascot spirit. Yes, our mascot was a chicken.



how to plan a yearbook colophon

STEP 1: YERDS

A YERD is a yearbook Nerd, i.e. someone who loves working on a yearbook. Cathy Wines was the Herff Jones representative. Mark Haab served as the yearbook advisor and Publication director. Rich Shepler was the principal. Chelsea Bellinger was the associate editor in charge of finishing the book.

STEP 2: PLAN

At 144 pages, the 2012 Warren Wigwam was smaller than the past several years in response to the tough economic times. It also downsized from a yearbook size 9 to an 8. Herff Jones printed 375 copies of the 75th volume of the Wigwam. That also was a reduction But in honor of the 75th Anniversary of the Wigwam, this was the first book in all color. The book was printed on 100 pound matt paper, two other changes from previous years. All page layouts were created with Adobe InDesign CS5 and Photoshop 5 software and designed by the Wigwam staff using Macintosh iMacs Headline and caption fonts were from the Chantilly family. Accent font was Avalon Body copy was set in the Garamond family 10 point

STEP 3: LEARN

Students attended JEA/NSPA National Convention in Minneapolis. The staff also attended the Indiana High School Press Association State Convention at Franklin College.

STEP 4:PHOTOS

Most photos were taken by staff photographers using a Nikon D100, Nikon D80, and Canon SX10 Prestige. Our official school photographer, provided sports group pictures and some special event coverage. All photos and graphics not originated by the staff meet Fair Use guidelines

STEP 5: COVER

The simple cover was designed by the editors to showcase their theme How To Be A Warrior. The day after we sent in the original cover design, Conseco Fieldhouse changed names to Bankers Life Fieldhouse. To note the change and that most students still refer to it as Conseco, we crossed out the original name and added the new Bankers Life. The How To part of the theme was carried through on pages using brackets, which along with bars was our visual theme to tie the book design together.

STEP 6: SELL

The yearbook was able to sell for the same as the previous year which were sold at an "early-bird" price of $50 and a regular price of $60.
